A horror game that doesn't try to tell you anything. You are a bystander. You are part of the tragedy. You are the meaning. The answer. You are the last puzzle. In Death's Life: The scenario of a destiny in peril, representing a single person, and manipulating its own execution. The player is the victim. The executioner. The player is the spectator. The performer. The player is the corpse. The survivor. The player is the murderer. The player is the corpse. The survivor. The player is the spectator. The performer. The player is the victim. The executioner. The player is the corpse. The spectator. The player is the survivor. The performer. The player is the corpse. The spectator. The player is the survivor. The performer. The player is the corpse. The spectator. You are the possible death of the player. The end of the player. The end of this story. About The Game You're playing a short story. A short story for a short time. A short story that lasts a short time. A short story with a finish line. The short story is a real story. The story has a beginning, a middle, and an end. The Story Begins...* You are the dramatic score of an opening. * You are the voice of the opening. * You are the player of the player. * You are an illusion inside an illusion. The Story Middle...* You are the pivotal point of the story. * You are a death. * You are the violent result. * You are the breakdown. The Story Ends...* You are the end. * You are a last time. * You are a last chance. * You are a last line. # * # * # # # # #

What's new:

ya ("Han! A warm yellow light.") Comments i think there are over 20 covers, and there is nothing like it. I have this CD in a friends band, and when i put it in the car, we starting jumping up and down and playing it too. My friend commended it when he picked it up..he is the type of person who looks at cd's...its an old CD, maybe because its an old song Back in the very early days of K-Pop I checked out a cd released by Korean "thug" artist AK Chang Ki Min. It was titled - Ilgiong Manusorya Adoph Daabindao ("Warm light that is like me") and the cover looked like a Big Brother version of Ak Ma's "Snowflakes" - where AK looked like a snowman. I believe the first No. 1 hit for this artist ever released in Korea was - Ilgiong Manusorya Adoph Daabindao (I received this info from another member of Gospel Mafia who stays involved with the Korean music scene). This song set a precedent for several K-Pop leaders to see what "thugs" were producing and buying. Yoochun even stated during his press tour for "Winter Sonata" that they would no longer produce music with Gangnam Style lyrics or crossovers from the K-Pop genre into another country's lyrics and music. After Art of Dying, it is possible that Ak Chang Ki Min was the biggest artist in the world who did not produce any music worthy of the K-Pop scene, or any company willing to produce it. Why are you surprised? Korean celebrities have sat on their hands and done nothing for the betterment of K-Pop. Look at YG Entertainment famous people like BTS and their minions, and their current actions and lack thereof. Look at Big Bang's Seungri and his minions @ YG Entertainment and many of their other companies. Then look at SM and their famous people. They are all collecting more money by NOT producing projects. One company - SMTOWN (if I am not mistaken) - is under Seungri's direct control. Seungri brings in all the money, he gets all the distribution and puts everything through him. Meanwhile Big Bang continues to put out album after album while sleeping on their laurels with a series of collaboration songs (for SM's management). Looks like SM and SMTOWN are gaining grounds.
